STRATEGIC THINKING

1. Strategic®

What Is Strategic?

People with strong Strategic talents can sort through the clutter to find the best route. You can't teach this skill. It is a distinct way of thinking — a unique perspective on the world at large. This outlook allows them to see patterns where others see complexity. Mindful of these patterns, they envision alternative scenarios, always asking, "What if this happened?" This recurring question helps them see, plan and prepare for future situations. They see a way when others assume there is no way. Armed with this strategy, they move forward.

Why Your Strategic Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

StrategicWoo*Positivity*Developer*Empathy

Instinctively, you are quite adept — that is, talented, skilled, and knowledgeable — with language. You can express your ideas and feelings with ease. You typically rely on words or phrases your teammates readily understand.

By nature, you can reconfigure factual information or data in ways that reveal trends, raise issues, identify opportunities, or offer solutions. You bring an added dimension to discussions. You make sense out of seemingly unrelated information. You are likely to generate multiple action plans before you choose the best one.

It's very likely that you customarily pinpoint the core problems and identify the best solutions. You artfully and skillfully eliminate distractions. This helps people gain a clear understanding of what is happening and why it is happening. You frequently identify ways to transform an obstacle into an opportunity.

Driven by your talents, you pay close attention to what is going on around you. You listen. You quiz people. You read. You probably take notes on key points. As you accumulate lots of information, you disregard what is unrelated, and pay heed to what is really important. The more you reflect on what you know, the more problems begin to reveal themselves, and eventually solutions start taking shape in your mind. Finally, given the situation, you select the best plan from your list of options.

Because of your strengths, you are innovative, inventive, original, and resourceful. Your mind allows you to venture beyond the commonplace, the familiar, or the obvious. You entertain ideas about the best ways to reach a goal, increase productivity, or solve a problem. First, you think of alternatives. Then you choose the best option.

2. Woo®

What Is Woo?

Woo stands for “winning others over.” People with strong Woo talents enjoy the challenge of encountering new people and gaining their esteem. They are drawn to meeting new people. They want to learn others’ names, ask them questions and find common interests on which to build rapport. People with Woo among their top themes can enter a crowd and easily know what to do and say. Why Your Woo Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

StrategicWoo*Positivity*Developer*Empathy

Even so, you are inclined to engage newcomers or outsiders in casual chitchat. In the process, you often tell them about your interests, experiences, successes, talents, or shortcomings. When you share personal information, strangers typically reveal more about themselves than they normally do.

By nature, you might derive much satisfaction from initiating conversations with outsiders or newcomers. You routinely make a game of getting strangers to tell you about themselves and their interests.

You usually ask questions that are guaranteed to stimulate discussions with people you are meeting for the first time.

Because of your strengths, you seek to earn the approval of people. This explains why you initiate small talk or offer compliments to newcomers as well as outsiders. You probably expand your network to include individuals whose friendship and support is likely to benefit you in the future.

It's very likely that you exhibit a genuine fondness for all sorts of people. Newcomers or outsiders intrigue you to such a degree that you start talking with them. You naturally put them at ease with your smile, encouraging words, or compliments.

Their instinctive ability to understand is powerful. They can hear unvoiced questions and anticipate needs.
